Mr. Robert Bishop

Dear Bob,

Feel free to share my testimonial with prospects that may have some lingering concerns based on previous experiences with “headhunters”. You’ve certainly distinguished yourself in this arena.

Working with Bob Bishop was a pleasure. We had a bit of skepticism – not based on a lack of confidence in Bob (I’ve known him for 25+ years and always enjoyed collaborating with him during his career as a photographer), but based on a few less-than-ideal experiences with other “headhunters.” After 25 years of recruiting the old fashioned, do-it-yourself way, sometimes an outside consultant is the right choice when you’re looking for top talent to fill an important position. Bob brings a passion for matching the right person with the right firm. He works hard to counsel both the employer and prospective employee and to make sure that all aspects of a potential relationship are carefully evaluated. Bob communicated key information throughout a lengthy but thorough process, the result of which is a great new senior level employee that we wouldn’t have found on our own.

Sincerely,
